Rigi - Kulm to Rigi - Klösterli

We journey with the Rigi railway to the highest point - Rigi-Kulm. A short but steep ascent to the peak is more than worth the effort. A wonderful 360° panoramic view reveals hundreds of Alp peaks, 8 Lakes and the whole of central Switzerland right up to the Jura. On clear days one can also make out the Schwarzwald (Black Forest) and Vogesen. After an ample pause on the peak to wonder at the surroundings from a birdseye perspective, we descend once again to the Rigi-Kulm station.

Rambling past the rail carriage building we find ourselves on a large flower - covered Alpine pasture. Following the signposted way, we pass the Kulm Alp cabin. Still following along the Kulm-Ridge we reach the upper Schwand Alp cabin, also known as the Schochen Alp cabin, where we take the level path to the right to reach the Trib Alp. The path leads us further over a small bridge to the Hotel des Alpes and on a wide sunny trail down to the final destination – the Rigi-Klösterli.

Alternatively: Following the small roadway from the Schwand Alp cabin brings us directly below the RIMONA holiday house. Walking time approximately 1.5 hours.
